

The sun is gone, it's no longer day
Now the star will guide my day

In the sky they shine so bright
Luminating each gorgeous night

As I look up they stare back at me
Twitching and glowing as I can see

All the light every star brings
Is what makes them such beautiful things

We watch them flicker near and far
Mom, you are our real life star!

We love you
